WILLIAMS VENKER & SANDERS
ATTORNEYS AT LAW L.L.C.

Amanda Reynolds works within the toxic torts practice area, assisting the firm's attorneys in matters related to asbestos litigation. Having worked exclusively with toxic torts for the past five years, Amanda is familiar with this field's unique complexities that include defense trusts, the review and analysis of mass documentation and careful deadline management. She is experienced in all of these areas along with a number of databases and specialized legal software that allow for better communication with clients as well as efficient data collection.
